P ROJECT MANAGER

To £45,000 + excellent benefits package

South East Wales

A respected world brand, Panasonic Communications Company (PCC) creates wired telecommunications products that enable people to realise their communication dreams by utilising the very latest high-level technology.

As an influential member of the Senior Management Team, you will manage complex multiple projects to meet commercial targets and ensure the on time introduction of products. An astute Project Manager, you will focus on milestone achievements within each project, anticipating potential issues and risks as well as establishing effective procedures, tools and control systems. This is a major challenge as the number of key tasks stands between 100 - 180 per project, with further sub tasks required on selected products.

Effectively using sophisticated MIS communication procedures to track and report upon performance, you will work closely with the parent division in Japan and enjoy high-level exposure to global activities. A confident communicator with the credibility to quickly earn respect, you will also play a key role within the Technical Functions Management Team and have direct scheduling responsibility for our Engineering Team.

With a proven track record of achievement gained within a multiple complex world-class environment, you will need global project management skills and a sound understanding of planning and control techniques. A strong team player and team builder, your drive and enthusiasm will enable you to motivate, develop and inspire people at every level and further promote the 'can-do' attitude we actively encourage and nurture.
